=====

SCOPE

=====

With recent evolution of adversarial techniques, intrusions have become more complex that may threaten the security of various assets regarding information and applications. In addition, coordinated intrusions like worm outbreak can continue to be a major threat to information, system and network security in the near future. The popularity of Internet may generate a large volume of different types of sensitive information. Therefore, there is a need for emerging techniques, theories and applications to protect information and practical security.

The Second International Symposium on Emerging Information Security and Applications (EISA) aims to provide a platform for researchers and practitioners across the world to exchange their ideas. It seeks original submissions that discuss practical or theoretical solutions to enhance the information and application security in practice.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PAPER SUBMISSION

=====

Authors are invited to submit original papers. All papers need to be submitted electronically through the website (<https://easychair.org/conferences/?conf=eisa2021>) with PDF format. Submitted papers must not substantially overlap with papers that have been published or that are simultaneously submitted to a journal or a conference with proceedings. Papers must be clearly presented in English, must not exceed 18 pages (or up to 20 pages with the pages over length charge) in Springer LNCS format (<https://www.springer.com/gp/computer-science/lncs/conference-proceedings-guidelines>), including tables, figures, references and appendices. Papers will be selected based on their originality, significance, relevance, and clarity of presentation assessed by at least three reviewers. Submission of a paper should be regarded as a commitment that, should the paper be accepted, at least one of the authors will register and attend the conference to present the work. Submissions do not need to be anonymous.
